 - (c) Amendments.

(2) The classification referred to in (i) above shall be used in the case of appropriate motions. The rules governing these motions shall be as follows:—

- (i) Substantive Motions—A substantive motion is a self-contained independent proposal submitted for the approval of the House and drafted in such a way as to be capable of expressing a decision of the House, e.g., all resolutions are substantive motions.
- (ii) Substitute Motions—Motions moved in substitution of the original motion for taking into consideration a policy or situation or statement or any other matter are called substitute motions. Such motions, though drafted in such a way as to be capable of expressing an opinion by themselves, are not strictly speaking substantive motions inasmuch as they depend upon the original motion.
- (iii) Subsidiary Motions—They depend upon or relate to other motions or follow upon some proceedings in the House. They by themselves have no meaning and are not capable of stating the decision of the House without reference to the original motion or proceedings of the House.

Subsidiary motions are further divided into:—

- (a) Ancillary Motions;
- (b) Superseding Motions; and
- (c) Amendments.

In that class fall all the dilatory motions. The following motions are superseding motions in relation to the motion for taking into consideration a Bill:—
